County of Henrico Division of Fire

In selecting a Fire Service occupation, you will become a member of a distinguished and honorable profession that dates back to Roman times.

Firefighters have always been looked upon by their neighbors, friends and peers as true public servants, who enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that they are among an elite group of men and women who have dedicated their lives to help those in need. The Fire Service is not just about fighting fires. Today, most professional firefighters are involved in fire prevention activities, emergency medical services, disaster response and planning, public education, hazardous materials response and special rescue emergencies. The firefighter of today is truly a well-trained and educated professional who is the cornerstone of emergency services throughout the community.

When you select the County of Henrico, Division of Fire as your employer, you have selected one of the finest, professional fire service organizations in the nation. We are known nationwide as one of the premier fire departments and are the ninth internationally accredited fire agency. Our reputation centers around progressive and proactive management, leading edge technology, educational qualifications of our employees, high quality job satisfaction and a salary and benefits package that ranks us as one of the nation's highest paid fire service organizations. The Henrico Division of Fire has positioned itself to move through the 21st century, continuing to lead the nation in its pro-active approach to public service. Automation, computer-aided dispatch, 800MHz radio system, and an aggressive apparatus replacement program will provide the tools necessary to allow the Division to deliver a variety of premiere services to its customers.
