Henrico TODAY

VOLUME 19, NO. 1 BROOKLAND • FAIRFIELD • THREE CHOPT • TUCKAHOE • VARINA WINTER 2016

Nelson, Glover to lead the Henrico County board in 2016

Chairman says budget may focus on aging facilities

Varina District Supervisor Tyrone E. Nelson began his first service as chairman of the Henrico Board of Supervisors by calling attention to the county's aging facilities and infrastructure.

He said the upcoming budget deliberations will give the board an opportunity to focus on the need to reinvest in schools, libraries, parks, firehouses and public utilities while upholding the county's standards for government excellence and efficiency.

"The challenge is before us, and we will meet it head-on with all deliberate speed," Nelson said Jan. 12 following his unanimous election as chairman. "I can assure you that the board would not take any actions that would jeopardize the county's coveted triple-A bond rating, which is shared with only 1 percent of all localities in the United States, or result in an increase in our real estate tax rate, which has not been raised in 38 years and remains [among] the lowest of any urban jurisdiction in the country."

Henrico's population surged following World War II, propelling the development of schools, fire stations, public utilities and other services. Now, the county has a long list of facilities due for major renovation or replacement.

For example, more than half of Henrico's schools are at least 50 years old. Among the buildings identified as needing renovation are Pemberton, Adams, Holladay, Chamberlayne and Seven Pines Elementary, Tuckahoe Middle and J.R. Tucker High.

In February, the Planning Commission and Board of Supervisors will begin reviewing a proposed capital improvement program for the next five years. County Manager John A. Vithoulkas will deliver his proposed budget for fiscal 2016-17 on March 8.

Nelson will lead the board alongside Vice Chairman and Brookland District Supervisor Richard W. Glover.

Also serving are Fairfield District

BOARD continued on page 3

Varina District Supervisor Tyrone E. Nelson (top photo, left) is sworn in as chairman of the Board of Supervisors for 2016 by Clerk Barry R. Lawrence. Brookland District Supervisor Richard W. Glover (bottom photo) recites the oath of office as he's installed as vice chairman.

THIS ISSUE

4 Henrico in Motion set for Dorey Park

5 HCTV schedule

6 Free tax help available

7 Recreation Roundup & Library Lineup

Kaechele's service continues in retirement

After 9 terms as Three Chopt supervisor, he will focus on regional transportation

David A. Kaechele acknowledges a little difficulty changing his routine after serving 36 years on the Henrico County Board of Supervisors.

He relinquished the Three Chopt District seat Dec. 31, after holding the post longer than any Henrico supervisor since 1934, when the county manager form of government started.

But less than two weeks into his retirement, Kaechele attended County Manager John A. Vithoulkas' State of the County address and the Board of Supervisors' inaugural meeting of its four-year term.

Kaechele, a retired development engineer for Reynolds Metals Co. and a U.S. Army veteran, wasn't just offering moral support to former colleagues.

He's stepping back but not completely away, as one of Henrico's appointees to the Richmond Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which owns and manages the region's expressway system.

KAECHELE continued on page 2

KAECHELE continued from page 1

"I look forward to that," he said, "still being able to contribute a little."

Extensive record of service

Kaechele has contributed plenty since joining the Board of Supervisors in January 1980.

His résumé includes nine terms as supervisor, nine stints as chairman and six as vice chairman, dozens of appointments to local, regional, state and national boards and commissions, and countless hours in countless meetings.

Recognized widely as a calm, steady leader, Kaechele said he's tried to work collaboratively with colleagues and staff to build a thriving community and position it for long-term success.

"I hope there's a degree of stability and consistency with the way the county is run," he said. "It has a great record that attracts people when they're looking for a place to settle or live."

Drawn to Henrico for schools

Kaechele said Henrico's schools and quality of life stood out in 1963, when he accepted a position with Reynolds Metals and moved his family, including two young daughters, to the area.

Henrico had been growing rapidly since World War II, and the call for expanded services was straining the county's government. To help meet the needs, a fifth magisterial district — Three Chopt — was established in 1968 from the rural, western end of the Tuckahoe District.

As a resident of the new district, Kaechele had joined the Henrico Republican Committee and become increasingly active in local issues.

In 1979, he decided to run for the open supervisor seat in Three Chopt. He captured 62 percent of the vote against one opponent and became the district's third representative, following C. Kemper Lorraine (1969-1971) and George W. Jinkins Jr. (1972-79).

"I didn't know exactly what I was getting into," he said.

In those early years, the supervisors were far less involved in preparing the county's budget and were more politically fractured than they are now, Kaechele said.

"Whoever could get three votes was who was in charge," he said.

Tenure saw growth

Kaechele's 3½ decades on the board were marked by significant development and change across Henrico but particularly in Three Chopt. Once mostly rural, the area is now a thriving center of activity, with Innsbrook and other corporate centers, scores of retailers, restaurants and hotels along West Broad Street plus parks and other amenities and a variety of housing types.

Amid the changes, Kaechele managed to retain the confidence of constituents, winning re-election eight times. He said residents have largely accepted development and increased traffic because the county has insisted on high standards and has continued to invest in roads, schools and other infrastructure. In addition, residents recognize the link between development and Henrico's quality of life, including access to amenities and low taxes.

"The Broad Street corridor is the main artery of Henrico County," he said. "Businesswise, I think the quality of development and the good jobs that came with it have been an asset to Henrico County."

Community offers thanks

Kaechele has received a stream of honors and congratulations after announcing a year ago that he would retire at the end of his ninth term. In April, he received the 2015 Henrico Community Leader of the Year Award from the Henrico Business Council of the Greater Richmond Chamber.

But the appreciation for his long service started earlier.

In 2012, the Henrico School Board announced the naming of David A. Kaechele Elementary School, which opened in fall 2013 on Pouncey Tract Road. He's the fourth former Henrico supervisor to receive such recognition. Elementary schools also have been named for Charles M. Johnson, R.C. Longan and Anthony P. Mehfoud.

"It was a very high honor and a huge surprise," Kaechele said. "I don't know whether it's warranted or not. I'm becoming more and more appreciative of it."

Kaechele credits much of Henrico's sustained success to the board's selection of strong county managers, its willingness to work collaboratively and its commitment to fiscally conservative policies. He takes considerable pride in the county's triple-A bond rating, competitive tax rates, award-winning departments and facilities, including schools, firehouses, parks and libraries.

"It all adds up to a good record," he said. ■

Now-retired Three Chopt District Supervisor David A. Kaechele (top photo) speaks at the dedication of Twin Hickory Area Library in 2007 and (bottom right photo) waves to the crowd at Kite Day at Dorey Park in 2011. Kaechele (bottom left photo, middle) accepts an award from the National Association of Counties in the early 1980s, with Varina District Supervisor Anthony P. Mehfoud (left) and County Manager Frank A. Faison (right).

Henrico changed dramatically during David A. Kaechele's 36 years as Three Chopt District supervisor.

POPULATION:
1980: 180,700
Now: 325,200

REGISTERED VOTERS:
1980: 82,500
Now: 206,100

HOUSING UNITS:
1980: 70,400
Now: 133,000

SCHOOLS AND STUDENTS:
1980: 50, 32,900
Now: 72, 50,000

RECREATION:
1980:
59 playgrounds, one golf course
Now:
3,955 acres of parkland, 140 buildings

FIRE STATIONS:
1980: 12
Now: 20

COUNTY-MAINTAINED ROADS:
1980: 886 miles
Now: 3,400 miles

BUDGET:
1980: $159 million
Now: $1.1 billion

COUNTY AND SCHOOL EMPLOYEES:
1980: 6,300
Now: 10,500

BOARD continued from page 1

Supervisor Frank J. Thornton, Three Chopt District Supervisor Thomas M. Branin and Tuckahoe District Supervisor Patricia S. O'Bannon. All five members were elected in November to four-year terms that will conclude Dec. 31, 2019.

Tyrone E. Nelson, Varina District

Nelson has begun his second term representing Varina. He was vice chairman in 2015.

A native of Varina, Nelson is pastor of Sixth Mount Zion Baptist Church in Richmond. He serves on the boards of various governmental and community organizations, including the Henrico Police Athletic League, Richmond Region Tourism, Richmond Regional Planning District Commission (RRPDC), Richmond Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Sports Backers, Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) Board of Visitors, National Association of Counties' (NACo) Transportation Steering Committee, Virginia Association of Counties' (VACo) Transportation Steering Committee and Virginia Transit Association.

Nelson earned an associate degree from J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College, a bachelor's degree from VCU and a master's degree from Virginia Union University (VUU).

Richard W. Glover, Brookland District

Glover has started his eighth term as supervisor and is now Henrico's longest-serving active board member. He has been board chairman five times and has begun his fourth service as vice chairman.

A native of Victoria and veteran of the U.S. Navy, Glover's service includes appointments to the Henrico Social Services Board, Henrico Audit Committee, RRPDC, NACo's Community, Economic and Workforce Development Steering Committee and VACo's Community Development and Planning Steering Committee.

Glover attended VCU and J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College, and completed planning commissioner certification from Virginia Tech.

The Henrico County Board of Supervisors consists of, from left, Thomas M. Branin, Three Chopt District; Vice Chairman Richard W. Glover, Brookland District; Chairman Tyrone E. Nelson, Varina District; Frank J. Thornton, Fairfield District; and Patricia S. O'Bannon, Tuckahoe District.

Frank J. Thornton, Fairfield District

Thornton has begun his sixth term representing Fairfield.

A retired assistant professor of French at VUU, he serves on the RRPDC, Richmond Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), Henrico Volunteer Rescue Squads, Maymont Foundation, VACo's Education Steering Committee and NACo's Human Services & Education Steering Committee.

Thornton earned a bachelor's degree from Virginia Union and a master's degree from American University. He also pursued graduate studies at Washington & Lee University, University of Rennes in France, Laval University in Canada and Middlebury College.

Thomas M. Branin, Three Chopt District

Branin has started his first term representing Three Chopt.

A graduate of Douglas S. Freeman High School and Ferrum College, Branin works as vice president of national and international sales for Colonial Construction Materials. He serves on the MPO, RRPDC and the county's Transportation Safety Commission.

Before his election as supervisor, Branin served on the Henrico Planning Commission, State Water Quality Control Board and Virginia Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Patricia S. O'Bannon, Tuckahoe District

O'Bannon has begun her sixth term representing Tuckahoe.

A native of Richmond, O'Bannon serves on the Virginia Building Code Technical Review Board; MPO; NACo's Telecommunications and Technology Steering Committee and its Essential County Technology Subcommittee of the Information Technology Standing Committee; VACo's Board of Directors, its Public Safety and Telecommunications Steering Committee, and its Compensation and Public Safety Committee; Virginia Coalition for Open Government; and Bon Secours St. Mary's Hospital Community Advisory Board.

A former English teacher, community news editor and development associate, O'Bannon earned a bachelor's degree from VCU, pursued additional studies at the University of Oxford and completed planning commissioner certification from Virginia Tech. ■

The board regularly meets at 7 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month in the Board Room at the Henrico County Government Center, 4301 E. Parham Road. For information, call (804) 501-4318 or go to henrico.us/supervisors.

Henrico in Motion set for May 14 in Dorey Park

Opening of connector to Virginia Capital Trail will highlight event

Henrico residents will be able to celebrate the growing bicycle culture and take a test ride on the county's new connector to the Virginia Capital Trail when the Division of Recreation and Parks holds "Henrico in Motion" on Saturday, May 14.

The free event is set for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Dorey Park, 2999 Darbytown Road.

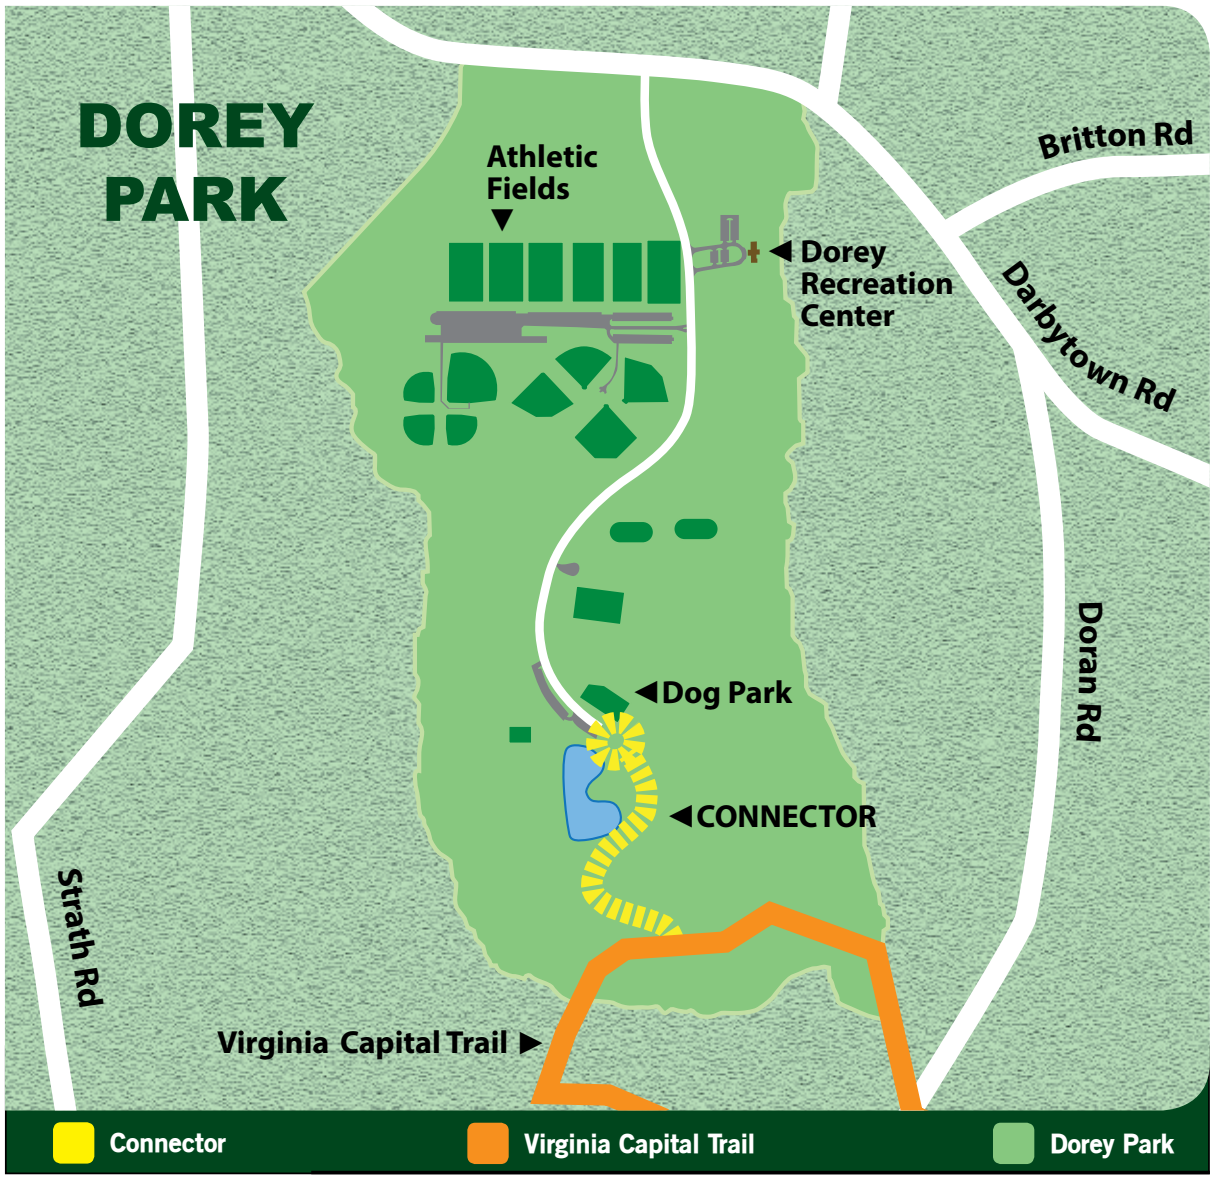
Henrico officials will cut the ribbon on a county-constructed spur that links Dorey's main road to the bike and pedestrian trail, which cuts across the bottom of the park. Participants can be the first to pedal the new pathway to the popular trail and also enjoy a variety of other activities, said Henrico Tourism Supervisor Dawn Miller.

"We're encouraging everyone to bring their bikes to Henrico in Motion," Miller said. "We want our visitors to be cycling and to incorporate cycling as a family activity."

The event will feature a bike safety rodeo led by the community policing unit of the Henrico Police Division and stunts by Extreme BMX Pros, a touring team of elite riders that puts on shows and demonstrations nationwide. The event will offer live music and food vendors as well.

There also will be Henrico history villages — living history displays depicting facets of the more than 400 years of history visitors can encounter in Henrico and along the course of the Virginia Capital Trail.

"Dorey Park connects us to our history as a county," Miller said, noting that the park hosted more than 790,000 visitors in 2015. "There is so much rich history and natural beauty in eastern Henrico. We want to create even more exposure for the park and for the Virginia Capital Trail."



Henrico in Motion activities will feature the opening of the Dorey Park connector (marked in yellow on the map at top right), a 0.4-mile long, 10-foot-wide pathway linking the park to the Virginia Capital Trail. The Dorey Recreation Center (above) will accommodate trail riders with expanded hours, rest facilities and services while also highlighting Varina's rich history and pastoral scenery.

Miller pointed out that the opening of the Dorey Park connector will give Henrico a second trailhead on the Virginia Capital Trail. The other, at nearby Four Mile Creek Park, has been heavily used since the trail opened in October.

The 0.4-mile spur begins near Dorey's dog park and pond and drops through the disc golf course before tapping into the trail. It will give riders and other trail users access to rest facilities and services at Dorey Recreation Center, located about a mile farther north near the park's entrance. The recreation center will be adapted into a visitor center, Miller said, with expanded hours, county information and exhibits highlighting the park and Henrico history.

Henrico is overseeing construction of the connector, which is being funded by a federal Transportation Alternative Program (TAP) grant, said Todd Eure, division director for transportation development for the county's Department of Public Works. Henrico is contributing a 20 percent match, or about $26,000, to the $129,000 grant.

The connector will be 10-feet wide, construct-

IN MOTION continued on page 6

Comcast channel 17 HCTV SCHEDULE Verizon channel 39

Watch HCTV programs streamed live at henrico.us. For program descriptions or more information, go to henrico.us/pr.

		Even Hours Midnight, 2 a.m., 4 a.m., 6 a.m., 8 a.m., 10 a.m., Noon, 2 p.m., 4 p.m., 6 p.m., 8 p.m., 10 p.m.	Odd Hours 1 a.m., 3 a.m., 5 a.m., 7 a.m., 9 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., 3 p.m., 5 p.m., 7 p.m., 9 p.m., 11 p.m.
FEB 22 THROUGH FEB 28	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Get Your Game On: Open Gym — 12 mins	Henrico Statesman: Charles M. Johnson (1919-1981) — 19 mins
	Tue Thu Sat	Inside Henrico: Winter 2016 Edition — mins TBD	A New Beginning: Inside Henrico Drug Court — 18 mins
FEB 29 THROUGH MAR 6	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Volunteer Rescue Squads — mins TBD	In the Public Trust: Historic Preservation in Henrico County — 22 mins
	Tue Thu Sat	Raymond Bennett Pinchbeck: The Good Neighbor — 27 mins	Never Forget: Marshall Ray Butler Homicide — 22 mins
MAR 7 THROUGH MAR 13	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Janice Johnson Missing Person — mins TBD	Four Centuries of Conflict and Confusion: The History of Dutch Gap — 21 mins
	Tue Thu Sat	Water, Clean and Clear: Henrico's Water Treatment Facility — 17 mins	Dr. R.A. Patterson: A Self-Made Man — 26 mins
MAR 14 THROUGH MAR 20	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Connecting Communities: The Bridges of Henrico — 15 mins	Strumming Up the Past: Henrico's Bluegrass Music — 24 mins
	Tue Thu Sat	City Limits: Henrico Escapes Richmond's Attempts to Merge and Annex — 19 mins	Never Forget: Cynthia Gilliam-Ford Cold Case — 20 mins
MAR 21 THROUGH MAR 27	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Domestic Violence — mins TBD	Starting Over: Refugee Settlement in Henrico — mins TBD
	Tue Thu Sat	Pocahontas: The Myth and Mystery of an Icon — 33 mins	The Four Legged Force: Life in Henrico's K-9 Unit — 33 mins
MAR 28 THROUGH APR 3	Mon Wed Fri Sun	Never Forget VII: Inez Childress Cold Case — 21 mins	A Safe Place to Learn: Henrico's School Resource Officers — 13 mins
	Tue Thu Sat	John Randolph Tucker: A Heritage of Law — 16 mins	Virginia: The Mother of Presidents — 40 mins

Free tax preparation available for residents

Libbie Mill, Fairfield libraries hosting Metrocash sites

Eligible Henrico taxpayers — anyone earning less than $54,000 in 2015 — now can receive free assistance with their income tax returns at locations in the county and throughout the metropolitan area.

Henrico County again is teaming up with Metrocash, a coalition of local nonprofit, business and government organizations, to help working families and individuals get the most out of their tax returns. Participants potentially could enhance their refunds by taking advantage of the Earned Income Credit (EIC).

The EIC is a tax benefit for people who earn low to moderate incomes. Designed to reduce the tax burden and supplement wages, the credit could increase a federal refund by as much as $6,242 for families with three or more children and $503 for individuals.

"These credits can help Henrico families make ends meet, but they must file a tax return to claim them," said Extension Agent Kim Edmonds, who coordinates Henrico's participation in Metrocash. "Our goal is to help more families learn about the benefits of these tax credits so they don't miss out."

To qualify for the EIC, residents must meet the following income requirements for 2015 (the incomes listed are for married couples filing a joint return; in each category, the income limit is $5,520 less for single-parent families):

- Earned less than $53,267, with three or more qualifying children;
- Earned less than $49,974, with two children;
- Earned less than $44,651, with one child; and
- Earned less than $20,330, with no children.

IRS-certified tax preparers and other trained volunteers are available to answer questions and help eligible taxpayers complete and file electronic returns at 12 Metrocash sites, including two in Henrico: Libbie Mill Library, 2100 Libbie Lake East St., 4-8 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays through April 13; and Fairfield Area Library, 1001 N. Laburnum Ave., 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturdays through March 12.

To receive assistance at a Metrocash site, families and individuals should bring photo identification; Social Security or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) cards for each person included on the tax return; W-2, W-2G and 1099-R forms for each job worked in 2015; copies of last year's state and federal returns, if available; and any other tax-related documents.

For the 2014 tax year, Metrocash volunteers helped area residents file more than 3,000 tax returns, generating $966,828 in EIC funds and a total of $2,910,749 in federal refunds. The free service saved its clients an estimated $626,800 in preparation fees.

The additional funds benefit the local economy as well: more than 80 percent of EIC refund dollars remain in the community where they are received, according to the organization.

Many area residents miss this opportunity, however. Metrocash estimates that up to 25 percent of eligible taxpayers fail to claim the EIC. ■

Additional information is available at metrocash.org or by calling 211.

FREE TAX HELP*
Metrocash sites in Henrico

LIBBIE MILL LIBRARY
2100 Libbie Lake East St.
4-8 p.m., each Wednesday and Thursday through April 13

FAIRFIELD AREA LIBRARY
1001 N. Laburnum Ave.
9 a.m.-1 p.m., each Saturday through March 12

Anyone earning less than $54,000 in 2015 can qualify

HENRICO IN MOTION

IN MOTION continued from page 4

ed of asphalt and built to the same standards as the trail, Eure said.

In addition, the county has received a second TAP grant to extend the connector along the entire length of the park's access road, running about 1½ miles total to the park's entrance at Darbytown Road. Planning is underway for this extension, Eure said.

Built by the Virginia Department of Transportation, the Virginia Capital Trail is a dedicated, mixed-use pathway traveling 52 miles and linking Richmond to Jamestown. The trail covers about 15½ miles in Henrico, paralleling Route 5 for most of its course through the county. ■

For more details about Henrico in Motion, go to VisitHenrico.com or call the Division of Recreation & Parks at (804) 501-7275. For additional information on the Virginia Capital Trail, log on to virginiacapitaltrail.org.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Fri, Feb 19:
African-American Inventors and Inventions
Celebrate Black History Month by matching the inventors with their inventions, then create your own using Z00 B Modeling System or Contraptions Plank Set. Pizza, too! $10; ages 10-13. Eastern Henrico Recreation Center. 6:30-8 p.m. Info: 652-1408.

Sat, Feb 20:
Recapture the Memory Musical Tribute Show
This concert honors the legends and icons of Motown. $5; purchase tickets at henricolive.com. Henrico Theatre. 7 p.m. Info: 652-1447.

Sat, Feb 27:
African-Americans at Dabbs
Discover the many roles they played in the history of Dabbs House through presentations on the Dabbs' family slaves; Perry Parks, the enslaved valet of Gen. Robert E. Lee; and residents of the almshouse. Also meet an African-American Civil War soldier from the Battle of New Market Heights. Dabbs House Museum. 1-3 p.m. Info: 652-1428.

Tue & Wed, Mar 8 & 9:
On-the-Air Radio Players
Join the studio audience for a live performance of the old-time radio show, "When Westerns Were King." The Cultural Arts Center at Glen Allen. 7:30 p.m. Info: 501-5138.

Thu, Mar 10:
Aftermath of Civil War: Legacies of Reconstruction
The third installment of this lecture series will feature the topic "Time to Rebuild: Recovery in the Southern Homefront." Learn more at reconstructionrva.wordpress.com. Henrico Theatre. 7-9 p.m. Info: 652-1428.

Fri, Mar 25:
Telluride Mountainfilm
Enjoy a selection of films from the annual festival in Telluride, Colorado. Learn more at mountainfilm.org/tour. Ages 12 and older. Henrico Theatre. 7-10 p.m. Info: 652-1414.

Tue & Thu, Mar 29 & 31:
Spring Break Nature Heydays
Get a behind-the-scenes look at the center's nature collections, featuring information on birds, turtles, snakes and more. Children must be accompanied by an adult. Three Lakes Nature Center. 11 a.m.-noon. Info: 652-1433.

Sun, Apr 3: Music without Walls featuring En'Novation
Bring your lawn chairs and blankets for this outdoor concert series. Eastern Henrico Recreation Center. 5-8 p.m. Info: 652-1401.

Sat, Apr 9: Fam Fest
Fun for the whole family, with live music and activities. Concessions available for purchase. Deep Run Park. 1-4 p.m. Info: 652-1448.

Fri, Apr 15:
Joe Enroughty & His Royal Virginians in Concert
$5; purchase tickets at henricolive.com. Henrico Theatre. 7 p.m. Info: 652-1457.

Sat, Apr 16: Sheep to Shawl
Watch as sheep get sheared and herded by sheep dogs; do your own carding, spinning and weaving; and make a wooly craft to take home. Meadow Farm Museum. Noon-4 p.m. Info: 652-1416.

Mon, Apr 18:
Henrico Concert Band in Concert
Reservations required. Henrico Theatre. 7:30 p.m. Info: 652-1460.

Programs are free and open to everyone except where noted. For additional activities, see Program Guide, our catalog of events and classes, available at henrico.us/rec, Henrico libraries and by calling (804) 501-PARK (7275).

LIBRARY LINEUP

Feb 20-27:
Story Drama Workshops
Virginia Repertory Theatre teachers lead this acting workshop designed to complement the upcoming production, "Croaker: The Frog Prince Musical." Ages 3-5; registration required. Check the calendar at henricolibrary.org/events for times and locations.

ALL HENRICO READS Book Discussions
Each library will host a discussion of the 2016 selection, "One Amazing Thing," by Chitra Divakaruni. Check henricolibrary.org/ahr for the schedule.

Quirky, Questionable and Clever Book Discussions
This book group discusses pop-culture titles on first Mondays: Mar 7: "Where'd You Go, Bernadette?" by Maria Semple. Apr 4: "Landline" by Rainbow Rowell. May 2: "Just Kids" by Patti Smith. Libbie Mill Library. 7-8 p.m. Info: 290-9400.

Tween Club
Tweens can give advice about programs, discuss books, make crafts and enjoy other activities. Second Tuesdays, Mar 8, Apr 12 and May 10. Ages 9-12. North Park Branch Library. 6-7 p.m. Info: 290-9700.

Wed, Mar 16:
Observe the Moon Night
Observe the Moon and other celestial objects with the Richmond Astronomical Society. Tuckahoe Area Library. 7-9 p.m. Info: 290-9100.

Sat, Mar 19:
Rosie the Riveter
Learn about the World War II homefront in Richmond, including women in the workforce, rationing and propaganda. Glen Allen Branch Library. 2:30-4 p.m. Info: 290-9500.

Mon, Mar 21:
Art Looted in the Nazi Era
Virginia Museum of Fine Arts' Karen Daly provides a historical overview and discusses the response of the museum community. Twin Hickory Area Library. 7-8 p.m. Info: 290-9200.

Mon-Thu, Mar 28 - 31:
Spring Break at the Library!
There's something different to do each day: Legos, a movie, games and crafts. Fairfield Area Library. 2-4 p.m. Info: 290-9300.

Wed, Apr 13:
ALL HENRICO READS with Chitra Divakaruni
The nationally acclaimed author will discuss "One Amazing Thing" and her writing career. Glen Allen High School. 7-9 p.m. (doors open 6:15). Info: 290-9038.

Henrico History Time Travel: The Shakespeare Adventure
Travel back 400 years to meet the Bard of Avon! Apr 16: Libbie Mill Library. 10-11 a.m. Info: 290-9400; and Fairfield Area Library. 2-3 p.m. Info: 290-9300. Apr 23: Twin Hickory Area Library. 10:30-11:30 a.m. Info: 290-9200; and Tuckahoe Area Library. 2:30-3:30 p.m. Info: 290-9100.

Thu, Apr 21: The U-2 Incident: A Son's Perspective
Francis Gary Powers Jr. will discuss his father's experiences as a U-2 pilot during the Cold War. Twin Hickory Area Library. 2-3 p.m. Info: 290-9200.

Thu, Apr 28: The Life of William Shakespeare
Bruce Parker of Agecroft Hall will discuss the Bard's life and works. Tuckahoe Area Library. 7-8 p.m. Info: 290-9100.

Sat, May 14:
Teen Volunteer Fair
Meet with local organizations and learn about service opportunities. Tuckahoe Area Library. 2-3 p.m. Info: 290-9100.

Events are free and open to everyone except where noted. For more information go to henricolibrary.org/events.

HENRICO COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

FAIRFIELD
Frank J. Thornton
501-4208
fairfield@henrico.us

THREE CHOPT
Thomas M. Branin
501-4208
threechopt@henrico.us

TUCKAHOE
Patricia S. O'Bannon
501-4208
tuckahoe@henrico.us

Vice Chairman
BROOKLAND
Richard W. Glover
501-5292
office@dickglover.com

Chairman
VARINA
Tyrone E. Nelson
501-4208
varina@henrico.us

Quick Reference Telephone Numbers

Adult Protective Services	501-7346
Board of Supervisors	501-4208
Building Permits & Inspections	501-4360
Business Licenses/Personal Property	501-4310
Child Protective Services	501-5437
Community Maintenance	501-4757
Community Revitalization	501-7640
Fire, Non-emergency	501-4900
Food Stamps	501-4001
Health Clinic - East	652-3190
Health Clinic - West	501-4651
History/Historic Preservation	501-5123
Human Resources	501-4628
Libraries	290-9000
Magistrates	501-5285
Marriage Licenses	501-5055
Mental Health Emergency Services	727-8484
Permit Center, The	501-7280
Planning & Zoning	501-4602
Police, Non-emergency	501-5000
Real Estate Assessment	501-4300
Recreation & Parks	501-7275
Recycling Collection (CVWMA)	340-0900
Report Fraud/Internal Audit	501-4292
Schools	652-3600
Sheriff	501-4571
Traffic Ticket Court	501-4723
Trash/Bulky Waste/Leaf Collection	501-4275
Vehicle Licenses/Personal Property	501-4263
Volunteer Program	501-4425
Voter Registration	501-4347
Water and Sewer Service	501-4275

GOVERNMENT CENTER
4301 East Parham Road
501-4000

EASTERN GOVERNMENT CENTER
3820 Nine Mile Road
652-3600

Henrico TODAY

The award-winning Henrico Today is published quarterly on behalf of the Henrico County Board of Supervisors. To comment or make suggestions contact:

Public Relations & Media Services
Henrico County
P.O. Box 90775
Henrico, VA 23273-0775
(804) 501-4257
henrico.us/pr

Proud of our progress;
Excited about our future.