Time Required: 30 minutes

Prep Required: None

Space (s) Needed: Indoor

Materials:

Markers

Water

Glue

Construction paper

Spray bottles

Scissors

Coffee filters

Instructions:

1. Gather a skin tone piece of construction paper and a coffee filter.
2. Trace and cut your right and left hand.
3. Draw the earth on the coffee filter with markers. Press hard and completely fill it in to make the colors darker.
4. Spray coffee filter with water until the coffee filter is saturated. Try to do this outside or over a sink/table covering. Let dry.
5. Glue or tape the hands to the back of the coffee filter and then bend the fingers up to look like they're holding the earth in their hands.

Variations:

- Use newspaper paper if coffee filters are not available.
- If spray bottles aren't available- wet hands and "sprinkle" drops on the filters.
- You can do any pattern or design on the coffee filter as a variation.
- You can also draw a design on the filter with glue and allow to dry. Then follow steps 3-4. The glued areas will remain white.
